Anti Human Trafficking Day on the Hill

Save The Date

Monday, January 9th 2017

The Iowa Network Against Human Trafficking (NAHT) will hold its 2017 legislative day on the hill on January 9th at the Iowa State Capitol Building in Des Moines. This first annual event will feature Iowa's Governor Terry Branstad and Lt. Governor Kim Reynolds, speaking on the importance of public awareness of this heinous crime that takes place here in Iowa and across the nation and the world.

A kickoff press conference is scheduled for 9-9:30 a.m. Monday, January 9, 2017 in the Robert D. Ray conference room of the governor's office G-9. Following the press conference, Iowa's Governor will sign a proclamation declaring January as Slavery and Human Trafficking Prevention and Awareness Month. The NAHT Board of Directors will also present several Oustanding Service Awards. The NAHT would like to invite all legislators to join us in the fight to end trafficking in Iowa and thank the Governor and Lt. Governor for their advocacy.

A NAHT Board of Directors meeting will also take place from 10:15am - 11:30 at the State Capitol Bldg.
The network's board will hear progress reports on efforts to combat human trafficing from the Department of Public Saftey and The Attorney Generals Office as well as service providers who are rescuing and serving survivors. The pubic is invited to this Board meeting.

Following the Board meeting, anti-human trafficking advocates from across Iowa will hand each legislator a copy of the NAHT 2017 Legislative Agenda.
